DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings filed on 12/10/2003 are accepted by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
- 4. Claims 1-8 and 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 4,920,251 to Whitenack et al. ("Whitenack") in view of U.S. Patent No. 1,751,241 to Kincannon ("Kincannon").

Whitenack discloses in Figures 1-10 a steam cooker similar to that described in applicant's claims 1-8 and 14-18. In particular, Whitenack shows a steam cooker having two cooking elements (50 and 70), each having peripheral walls (see Fig. 5), and a pedestal having a steam production base (10). Within the base (10) is a water tray (30) for providing steam that also functions as a vessel for recovering juices that has the structures recited in applicant's claims. The cooking elements may be arranged in various configurations for stacking in an upright position upon the pedestal base. These cooking elements would be capable of functioning as rice bowls and therefore considered to meet this recitation in the claims (e.g. see applicant's claim 14). The feet (18) are considered to be the gripping elements recited in applicant's claim 18.

Whitenack does not disclose that the cooking elements are placed in an inverted position on the pedestal so that the peripheral lateral wall at least partially envelopes the pedestal.

Kincannon teaches a cooking device in the same field of endeavor as Whitenack. In Kincannon, the cooking device includes multiple cooking elements (29, 33, 35) that maybe be placed in an upright position for cooking food (see Fig. 1) and in a second inverted position for nesting to facilitate storage wherein the cooking elements at least partially envelope a pedestal base (see Fig. 4, page 1, lines 36-40).

Therefore, in regard to claims 1-8 and 14-18, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the steam cooker of Whitenack to incorporate the cooking element nesting taught by Kincannon as this nesting arrangement desirably allows the cooking device to occupy minimum space for transportation or storage (see Kincannon, page 1, lines 36-40) and provides a collapsed arrangement for additional cooking techniques (see Kincannon, page 2, lines 100-110).

5. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Whitenack in view of Kincannon as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of U.S. Patent No. 691,380 to Hower ("Hower").

Whitenack in view of Kincannon teach all the limitations of claims 9-11 except for the retractable filling device as described.

Hower teaches a steam cooker in the same field of endeavor as Whitenack. In Hower, the water base includes a filling device (m) that is removable/retractable (see page 2, lines 19-29).

Therefore, in regard to claims 9-11, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the steam cooker of Whitenack to incorporate the removable/retractable filling device of Hower for the desirable purpose of providing convenient packing of the steam cooker (see Hower, page 2, lines 20-23).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 12 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

- 7. This action is made non-final. A THREE (3) MONTH shortened statutory period for reply has been set. Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- 8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patents to Welch, Hidle, Hait, and Pretre, and foreign documents GB 2 276810 and WO 01/39640 are included to further show the state of the art concerning cooking devices and/or steam cookers with nesting sections and/or pedestal base structure.
